GOLF

Monroe's 1950 golf team ended its season with two wins, three losses, and one tie. Monroe was victorious over Mt. Horeb and Stoughton. Delavan beat Monroe twice, and Freeport nosed out Monroe once. Monroe and Freeport tied in their other match.

The highlight of the season came when Monroe took first place at the invitational tournament at Edgerton, in which eleven schools took part.

In the Southern Ten golf meet at Stoughton, Monroe took fourth place and placed fourteenth in the state tournament at Racine in which thirty-one schools competed.

Mr. McGibbon coached the golf team with Neil Holcomb, David Forbes, Ronnie Poff, Bill Riffle, Paul Ruf and Jim Forbes as members of the squad.

Football

The Monroe High School football team, coached by Mr. Steensrud and his assistants, Mr Edwards and Mr Simpson, upset the pre-season pre-diction, (" Monroe does not figure as a title contender this fall") by winning the Southern Ten Conference Championship

The "Cheesemakers," though small in stature, outfought and out-played every team in the conference

Dick Blanc led the team in scoring with 30 points and Charles Robert son followed with 21 points. Blanc was also named to the first string of the all-conference team. Fred Buob, Ken Norton, Rudy Speich, and Dick Mc-Ardle made the all-conference second team.

HIGHLIGHTS OF CONFERENCE GAMES

MONROE 7 — WISCONSIN DELLS 6

Ken Davis ran 18 yards on a reverse for Monroe's touchdown, and Robertson scampered around end for the extra, and game winning point

MONROE 7 — FORT ATKINSON 0

Blanc passed to McArdle for the first touchdown and Blanc scored the second. Monroe's defense proved too much for Fort's big line

MONROE 13 — EDGERTON 6

Blanc's touchdown plunge and Robertson's 10 yard run on a double reverse play accounted for Monroe's victory. Good defensive play was predominant for Monroe

MONROE 13 — PORTAGE 0

Homecoming! And the best game of the year! Rudy Speich returned a Portage punt 60 yards for one touchdown, and Robertson raced 69 yards for a touchdown in the fourth quarter.

MONROE 13 — STOUGHTON 7

Blanc intercepted a pass and scampered 98 yards for a touchdown, and Fred Buob received a 22 yard pass for the second marker. Stoughton scored on a block punt during the heavy fog that rolled in during the fourth quarter.

MONROE 19 — WISCONSIN HIGH 0

Blanc tossed a pass to Buob good for 33 yards and a touchdown, Jim Weakly scored another on a 7 yard smash, and Robertson scored the third on a double reverse around end.

BASKETBALL

The Monroe cage squad, coached by Lee Mitchell, ended the 1950-51 season with a total of nine wins and 17 losses. Of these five wins and eight losses were conference games which tied the Mitchelmen with Edgerton.

Team play and whole-hearted enthusiasm ranked the Silver Streak sixth in team scoring with 587 points. Baraboo Southern Ten champs, holding first with 682.

CHORUS

Under the skillful direction of Mrs. Mabel Viel, the sixty voice Monroe Senior High Mixed Chorus presented two major performances during 1951. The first, a combined orchestra chorus concert, was given on January 24, and the second, the operetta "The Gypsy Rover," on March 13 and 14. Before the Music Festival the chorus made two exchange programs with other schools. Many groups were formed from the chorus to represent Monroe, as well as the chorus itself, at the Music Festival.

The officers of the Chorus were: President, Jack Andereck; Vice President, Gary Quinn, Secretary, Lydia Wels, Treasurer, Marian Walker, Librarians, JoAnn Lunde and Kenneth Steinman, and Robemaster and mistress, Bill Riffle and Phoebe Abraham.

ORCHESTRA

The first work of the orchestra was a concert given with the chorus on January 24. Tournament music was prepared and presented at a concert with the band April 3 and 4. The Monroe Orchestra was the only entry in Class A at the New Glarus Music Festival.

As is customary, the orchestra played for both the senior class play and graduation exercises.

Officers for the year were: President, Jennette Crane assisted by Lyn-don Viel, Vice President, Jean Stauffacher, Secretary-Treasurer, Richard Eley.

BAND

"The White Faced Minstrel" Concert with its many novelties displayed the talents of this years 90 piece Monroe High School Band under the direction of Allan F. Barnard. Another concert was held April 3 and 4 when the band played its tournament music.

The appearance and formations of the band at the home football games added much to the festivities.

The band played in class A at the Music Festival and they made a fine presentation.

Band officers: President Ken Davis was assisted by Vice President Mary Ann Huber, Secretary Ila Probst, Treasurer Sally Burt.

BULLETIN REGULAR STAFF

Once every three weeks, students at Monroe High looked forward to reading the Bulletin. This past year the staff endeavored to give their readers more pictures in each issue. The eighteen regular staff members were under the guidance of Mrs. Katherine Gruenewald.

BULLETIN ADVERTISING

Backstage of the Bulletin is the Bulletin Advertising staff. These hard-working members, along with their advisor Mr. Donald McGibbon, paved the way by obtaining advertisements from the various business centers of Monroe.

GIRLS' TUMBLING

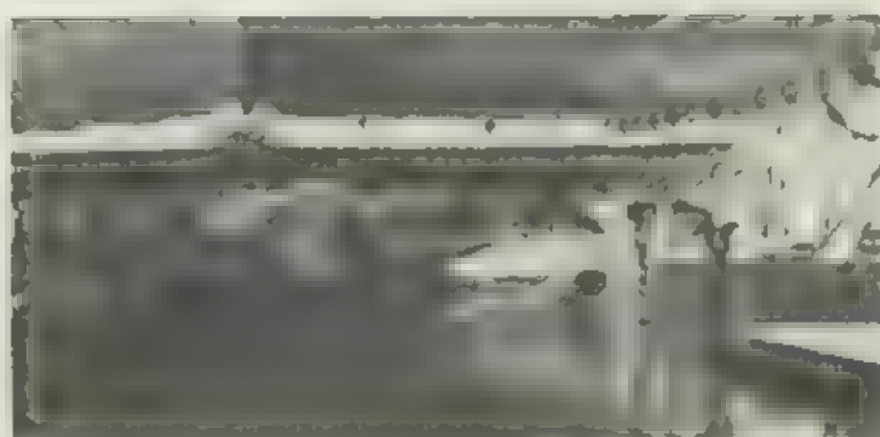

If one should drop over to the Lincoln Gym some Tuesday during seventh hour, he would have seen eighteen girls doing flips, forward rolls, making pyramids, or doing most any form of tumbling. Mrs. Anderson was the supervisor of this group.

JUNIOR ORCHESTRIS

This year there were 33 minor members in Junior Orchesis who were serving as apprentices to the 23 major members. The main object of this group was to acquire poise, physical confidence and grace.

Many members have given recitals for various clubs of Monroe and Milwaukee. Their annual recital was presented in the spring under the direction of Mrs. Grace Anderson.

Class Prophecy

May, 1961

Dear Claire,

I finally earned a vacation from the hospital and decided to return to our old home town. I thought you would be interested in hearing about some of our old classmates from M. H. S.

When I was driving into Monroe, I noticed Hyland's Service Station, so I decided to stop. While Eugene Haeft was filling the gas tank, I wandered into the station. There I found Lloyd Flick listening to Dan (There's "B. A. D." news tonight) Teehan. After he finished listening to the broadcast, he told me about Bob Rygh's egg truck accident which happened by Chuck Dickson's farm.

While I was in town, I decided to drive over and see Jane Ruch. We had a very interesting talk about all our former pals who have settled in the Monroe area. Buob and Davis are still trying to interest people in their convenient lay-away plan,—they are now the town morticians. Jane told me Roger recently finished painting Wes and Ila Wandfluh's home, unexpectedly! Their little boy pushed him off his ladder and he ended up in the hospital with a broken leg. His roommate is Jim Curran. I don't even need to tell you he was in an automobile accident. I think Jane is worrying about his long stay and all those pretty nurses. You know that Ev Ruff, Nancy Wyss, Ruth Dettwiler, and La Von Broge are working there now.

During my stay with Jane, I noticed the local newspaper. I thought you'd be interested to know that it has changed hands since we left town. Instead of the Monroe Evening Times it is now the "Weakly" News. The editor and chief is (don't die) Janet Shultz. She must be too lazy to put it out daily!!

One afternoon when I was downtown, I met Sally Burt. She wanted me to come out to her farm. I think the only reason she enjoys my visits is because what I know about the farm, you could engrave on a pin head and still have plenty of room to sign your name. Sal did tell me a lot about our country friends. Joe Tschanz recently won a first prize in the National Rural Fair with his Brown Swiss Bull, Ferdinand. At the same time, Lyle Drake won a prize with his new and different odorless limburger. The girls didn't let the boys out-do them. Frances Ladwig won first prize in the dessert contest with her cake which was decorated with nautical designs.

Well, I guess I'll hang my "clothes" on this line.

Joan

May, 1961

Dear Joan,

What a wonderful surprise it was to receive your letter about our classmates. As you know, I am traveling with the "Fly by Night" diaper company, and in my travels I have met many of them.

While I was in New York, I met Jack Ander-eck, at the "Met" after hearing his concert. Don Fritz and Lyndon Viel have teamed up and are playing preludes on the steps of Carnegie Hall. Pat Kelly was having an art show, but I missed it because I was having tea with Heidi Pfaffli who is the Jaques Fath of New York. She told me of a trousseau she was designing for Mary Ann Von Moos who has finally "Speiched" her man.

On the way out West, I couldn't resist stopping in Madison to see Bud Pilz who is coaching the University Basketball team and Pat Kubly who is teaching the art of "flying away from women" to Dick Blanc. Before I forget, I must thank Bob Eicholtz for sending me that lovely "creeping Charlie" corsage.

In Dead Beat Junction I found Ron Teehan still acting out "The Late Christopher Bean." He has now learned to portray all the parts.

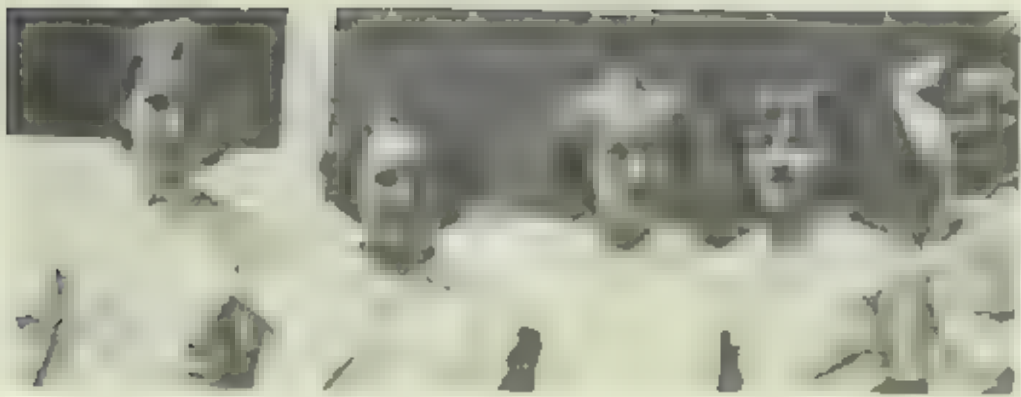

John Burt is flying me to California where he is going to enter the hospital for an operation, and Jennette Crane has been assigned to him as his nurse. I wonder if there's any speed limit on flying. If there is, we will certainly get a ticket.

By the way, how is Leon Schmidt? Is he still pulling strings?

According to our letters, the class of "51" has made a definite improvement on our country and if Bob Marty becomes President our future is cinched.

Never say die,

Claire

BACKWARD

We, the Annual staff of 1951 and Mertie Mouse, hope you have found cherished memories among the pages of this year's book.
